

Project Manager

Location: Split, Croatia

Are you on the hunt for exciting new challenges that boost your professional growth? If you're an innovator by nature and a Project Manager by trade, we'd love to hear from you! Read on to see if you'd be a good fit for the Parklio team.

Parklio is a team of dedicated problem solvers that appreciate teamwork, client relationships, and user experiences as much as the software and hardware we create. We hold each other responsible, push ourselves to be better in all we do, and set out to be the market leader in parking and mobility services.

We're industry innovators at the forefront of change. Equipped with the latest technologies and a team of knowledgeable colleagues by your side, you'll embrace new and interesting challenges. You'll be the glue that keeps our amazing projects moving at the right speed. You're the captain of every project, and your main responsibility will be to successfully navigate the process from start to finish.

Responsibilities:

As a project manager, you will work closely with our client delivery team, our technical teams, and our founders. You can handle the day-to-day tasks and simultaneously keep an eye on what lies ahead. While we have a process very defined, we run very fast - so you have to make sure resources are working on the right items, delivering them with high quality and on time.

Requirements:

- Amazing follow-up skills, capturing notes, taking initiative
- You understand general project management topics and disciplines
- You know how to develop a project plan
- You have a strong understanding of how to identify and escalate project risk
- You can maintain a balanced workload that's always prioritized
- You communicate effectively and know how to negotiate
- You're able to drive processes

- You're comfortable and adaptable to various technologies
- Knowledge of SCRUM methodology
- You know how to use most popular collaboration (Jira, Trello, itd.)

What do we offer?

- An opportunity to work and develop a single product within a fast-growing company present in over 50 countries in the world (instead of working for different clients)
- Work on a unique parking solution used worldwide
- Salary in accordance with your knowledge and experience
- Vacation policy adjusted to your needs
- Work with the latest technologies
- Unlimited budget for education (online courses, books, etc.)
- Flexible working hours

Send us your job application along with CV to jobs@parklio.com

Please note that only shortlisted candidates will be contacted.